

Terms and Conditions

Becoming an IFTA, Inc. website subscriber allows the user to obtain the benefits described in the IFTA Subscriber Program outline found by clicking on the link above. The benefits of an IFTA, Inc. website subscriber will start the day the user submits payment and registers a user and password as a subscriber and will end on 12/31 of that year regardless of when the user paid or registered within that year.

Benefits of being an IFTA, Inc. website subscriber include: discounted registration fee for one IFTA, Inc. hosted event, access to areas of our website that are not available to the general public including meeting materials, IFTA newsletter, access to some jurisdiction contact information that is not available to the public, access to training materials including webinars, access to conference calls hosted by IFTA with your peers two times a year and other benefits as outlined in the IFTA Subscriber Program.

I fully understand that an IFTA, Inc. website subscriber is not associated in any way with obtaining IFTA decals, credentials or filing IFTA tax returns which can only be done through your base jurisdiction. I understand that IFTA, Inc. does not issue IFTA credentials or process IFTA tax returns. I understand that IFTA, Inc. is an organization that was created to help membership jurisdictions administer the IFTA Fuel Tax Agreement but IFTA, Inc. is not authorized and cannot issue IFTA decals or other credentials and signing up for an IFTA subscriber is not required and does not enable me to obtain IFTA decals and credentials. The only way to obtain IFTA decals, license and file tax returns is to contact your base jurisdiction.

I also understand that once I finalize payment for purchase of the IFTA, Inc. website subscriber subscription, I will receive immediate access as a subscriber once I create a username and password and that the payment is non-refundable. There is no refund once the payment is processed and I receive access as an IFTA subscriber. In very rare and unusual circumstances, I may attempt to request a refund immediately after submitting payment provided I have not accessed any subscriber information on the website. Any decision on allowing a refund will be at IFTA, Inc. sole discretion. In the event a refund is allowed by IFTA, Inc. because of extenuating circumstances, a processing fee of $50 will be deducted from any refund allowed. Before submitting my payment information, I have read all of the above including the terms and conditions, and fully understand what the IFTA, Inc. subscriber program is and is not and I understand that once payment is submitted, it is non-refundable.